CROSS-CULTURAL TEAMBUILDING

Client testimonial

"The very intensive cultural transition and teambuilding program carried out by C3 has had a tremendous impact on how quick the new Technology team was formed. ... The team members often refer back to this as one of the key events in their transition into China and forming the network."

Do your company's managers or employees work in cross-cultural teams? And do you wish to establish common values and create synergies between the different working cultures? Then C3 Consulting's cross-cultural teambuilding workshop is the obvious choice for you. The workshop helps you fulfil the potential of your cross-cultural teams.

Content

The first step in the cross-cultural teambuilding training is to clarify your specific experiences and expectations, so that the training can be customized for your company. During the workshop there is a focus on building up common values and rules of the game for the team, which can be used in the day-to-day work.

The workshop can e.g. include:

- What is cultural intelligence and how do you become culturally intelligent?
- What are the differences and similarities between the working cultures at play?
- What is good leadership?
- How do we share assignments and responsibility?
- How do we make decisions in the team?
- How do we give feedback?
- How do we create a safe, fun, and inspiring working environment?

Outline

Through switching between research-based presentations, exercises, practical cases, and reflections, a highly dynamic, developing and instructive process is obtained in which all participants are active.

Benefits

Your benefits of the training:

- Increased synergy between the different working cultures
- Development of the participants skills to work across culture
- Development of good personal relations, mutual trust and respect
- Clarification of roles and competences in the team
- Methods to ensure clear and constructive communication
- Methods to handle disagreements, misunderstandings and conflicts
- Common values, goals and rules of the game for the team
- Sparring and knowledge sharing in the team
- Strengthened motivation and increased productivity in the daily work

C3 Consulting helps to ensure that the output of the training is rooted in the everyday teamwork. After the training we send written documentation on the results of the training and offer to make follow-up visits to the company.

Target group

Managers and employees within e.g. production, quality, supply chain, education, and development who work in cross-cultural teams or project groups. The training is relevant for managers and employees at all levels in your organisation.

Practical information

The cross-cultural teambuilding workshop is customized and designed for your team. Together we plan the content, time and place. The training can take place in Denmark as well as abroad. The workshop can be combined with C3 Consulting's country-specific cultural training. For more information, please visit www.c3consulting.dk
